Highlights

- About 72 per cent of rural SC population reside in the seven states of Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal. As far as STs are concerned, Chhattisgarh, Gujarat, Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Odisha and Rajasthan account for 70 per cent of the tribal population in rural India.
- The growth of SC & ST population in India has been higher in over 3.0 per cent per annum over the decades while that of 'overall social groups' has been on decline.
- The growth of SC population has been on rise since 1981 while that of STs and all social groups have been declining.
- The gender differences in literacy have been still existing in all social classes. The literacy of females among SCs has been growing faster than that of STs. The backwardness of the states is also reflected in literacy levels.
- In states like Assam, Bihar, Kerala and Uttarakhand, the literacy rates among SCs and STs are very close.
- Though drop-out rates have been falling, they are still high. The gender disparity has reduced considerably at the primary stage.
- The landlessness among various social groups has been reducing and there has been increase in the concentration of marginal holdings. The percentage of households with less than one hectare is relatively more among STs compared to SCs. The shares of marginal holdings in operated area for different social groups in various states are low which can be interpreted as an indicator of economic inequality within each group. The gender disparities in landholdings are evident in all farm size categories.

- Landlessness among ST households is observed mainly in Arunachal Pradesh (11.2 %), Kerala (14.3 %) and Mizoram (19.5 %). While among SCs, it is high in Arunachal Pradesh (73.1%) and Lakshadweep (100.0%).
- Poverty among SCs has declined almost at the rate of one per cent per annum during the last two decades, while such decline among STs is about 0.8 per cent per annum.
- Poverty levels among STs had gone up during the 11-year period ending with 2004-05 in Andhra Pradesh, Gujarat, Kerala, Maharashtra, Madhya Pradesh, Odisha and Punjab.
- The coverage of SC and ST SHGs for financial assistance under SGSY was also lower.
- Under MGNREGA, the share of SCs and STs in employment was more than share in population; a welcome sign.
