About the Institute

The National Institute of Rural Development & Panchayati Raj (NIRD & PR), Ministry of Rural Development, Government of India, which celebrated its Golden Jubilee in 2008, is a premier national centre of excellence of rural development. Recognized internationally as a UN-ESCAP Centre of Excellence in HRD; acclaimed regionally as a centre of excellence in rural development by the Afro Asian Rural Development Organisation (AARDO), Centre on Integrated Rural Development for Asia and the Pacific (CIRDAP) and considered a leader in rural business management education and for Distance Education. It builds capacities of stakeholders such as officials and functionaries engaged in rural development, elected representatives, institutions, academicians and young students through inter-related activities of training, research, action research, teaching and consultancy. The Institute endeavors to enable them to develop right perspectives, analyze and propose solutions to problems in planning and implementation of the programmes for rural development and disseminate information on best practices in rural development through periodicals, reports and publications. The Institute is located in the serene surroundings of Rajendranagar about 15 km from the Historic City of Hyderabad.

Vision

The vision of NIRD & PR is to focus on the policies and programmes that benefit the rural poor, strive to energise the democratic decentralization processes, improve the operation and efficiency of rural development personnel, promote transfer of technology through its social laboratories, technology park and create environmental awareness.

As a “think-tank” for the Ministry of Rural Development, NIRD & PR, while acting as a repository of knowledge on rural development, would assist the Ministry in policy formulation and choice of options in rural development to usher in the change.

The Institute’s services are also available at NERC (North East Regional Centre at Guwahati) and to different ministries/development departments of the Central and State Governments, Banking institutions, public and private sector organizations, civil societies, Panchayati Raj Institutions and other national and international agencies connected with rural development.

Post Graduate Diploma in Tribal Development Management (PGD- TDM)

Article 366 (25) of the Constitution of India refers to Scheduled Tribes as those communities who are scheduled in accordance with Article 342. According to this Article, the Scheduled Tribes are the tribes or tribal communities or part of or groups within these tribes and tribal communities which have been declared as such by the President through a Public Notification and 8.10 percent of the Nation's total population (about 835.80 lakh), according to the 2011 Census, is what constitutes the tribal population of India. This population lives in concentrations in various parts of the country mainly Madhya Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Odisha, Bihar, Maharashtra besides the North Eastern States. However most of these tribal groups have been living in abject poverty for a long time.

In this background, an acute need was felt for developing a well trained set of tribal development professionals who can bring about positive changes and improve the quality of life of the Tribals. To create an opportunity for the students, development officials working in tribal development and allied departments, panchayat raj representatives NGO's it was decided to start a programme on tribal development in distance mode. The Programme is titled "Post Graduate Diploma in Tribal Development Management (PGD-TDM)".
